Helen Simmons is a BIFA longlisted producer, Crystal Bear-winning writer and Screen Star of Tomorrow. Her work has screened at festivals across the world, including Rhode Island, Flickerfest and LOCO. As a producer, she runs Erebus Pictures - BFI Vision Awardee 2020 - and recently produced features 100 NIGHTS OF HERO (Emma Corrin, Charli XCX, Nicholas Galitzine); KLOKKENLUIDER (Jenna Coleman, Tom Burke, Amit Shah); HOARD (Joseph Quinn, Hayley Squires), and BONUS TRACK (Josh O'Connor, Jack Davenport, Alison Sudol). As a writer, her debut short F*CK, starring Emmy-award winner Brett Goldstein (TED LASSO) and Esther Smith (TRYING), screened at multiple festivals, was a Vimeo Staff Pick, and gained a Best Screenwriter nomination at Underwire. Helen has been part of iFeatures and 4Screenwriting, and wrote 4 episodes of Audible Original DARK HARBOUR. She's recently written 3 episodes of an animated show for Sky and Hocus Pocus under lead writer Joseph Morpurgo, and a romantic comedy feature for the Netflix Breakout scheme with BAFTA-nominated director Ben Mallaby. She co-wrote the feature, LAST SWIM, directed by Sasha Nathwani, which premiered at the Berlinale this year and was released earlier this year. She also co-wrote and co-directed the BFI NETWORK-funded short Measure, alongside Julia Cranney, which won a Méliès Award and was nominated for multiple other awards on its festival run. She is currently developing multiple TV and film projects, including a darkly comic crime thriller with World Productions; a romantic comedy six-parter starring Daniel Lawrence Taylor and Susan Wokoma for Netflix; a biopic for Erebus and The Development Partnership starring Suranne Jones; a darkly comic horror for Moonriver TV, and a feature for Jude Law's Riff Raff Entertainment.
