

Theo Rhys

Represented by:

Alec Drysdale

Theo Rhys is a London-based director. His short musical film 'STUFFED' premiered at SXSW, winning the Audience Award, Special Jury Recognition and was nominated for a BAFTA. STUFFED is also currently in development to become a feature. His work for brands includes commercials for Mercedes, Three Mobile, Melody VR and River Island, as well as an online series, MOTHERFKING PEP TALK, for Comedy Central. He is currently in post production on a feature-length documentary, WHITE LION, which discusses the difference between cultural appreciation and appropriation as it follows a white British dancehall artist as he tries to find credibility and success in a primarily Black music scene.
