Emma Ramsay

Writer

Represented by:
Francesca Devas

Emma Ramsay is a Scottish screenwriter/director based in Edinburgh.
She was in the writers room for series two of CBBC sitcom NOVA JONES and wrote an original episode. She has also written episodes of the continuing drama RIVER CITY.
Emma was part of BBC Writers Scottish Voices '23 and is currently partnered with SYNCHRONICITY (THE CRY/TATTOOIST OF AUSCHWITZ) on the BBC Writers pilot scheme where she's writing THE RENTAL, a psychological-horror about the hell-that is the housing market.
In 2024 she wrote and directed the short film POLY BAGGAGE, a comedy/horror about-heartbreak funded by the BFI Network and Screen Scotland.
She is now developing projects across television as well-as her feature film BLUE SCARS,-a horror set in the mining-town she-grew-up-in.

FEATURE FILM

PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
Blue Scars	Short Circuit	Script commissioned Currently writing

TELEVISION

INDEPENDENT TALENT GROUP LTD

40 WHITFIELD STREET LONDON W1T 2RH
TEL: +44 (0)20 7636 6565 FAX: +44 (0)20 7323 0101

REGISTERED IN ENGLAND NUMBER 4338525 EMPLOYMENT AGENCY,
REGISTERED OFFICE 40 WHITFIELD STREET LONDON W1T 2RH

PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
GOTH	Warp Films	In Development
Just A Girl	Snowed In Productions	In development
The Rental	Synchronicity Films	In development (BBC Pilot Scheme)
River City - Series 25	BBC Scotland	Currently writing
Eat Worms	Birdie Pictures	In development
Like Hell	Longboat Pics	Original pilot in development
River City - Series 24	BBC	1 episode
Nova Jones Series 2	Jam Media / BBC	1 episode
Sorry (Writer)		Comedy spec Finalist in the inaugural Short Com script competition.

SHORT

PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
Poly Baggage (Writer / Director)	BFI Network / Screen Scotland
In Her Corner (Director)		Written by Mikey Burnett In post-production