

Colette Kane

Writer

Represented by:

Alec Drysdale

Colette is lead writer and executive producer of the greenlit reboot of Dalziel and Pascoe for West Road Pictures and ITV / Britbox. She recently worked with Left Bank Pictures on the acclaimed Scott Frank series DEPARTMENT Q, writing two episodes.

Colette began her career as a playwright, creating work for Paines Plough, Liverpool Everyman and Playhouse, Hampstead Theatre, London and Theatre Clwyd. She broke into screenwriting in 2012 when she was commissioned to write an episode of Jimmy McGovern's Moving On for BBC ONE. She went on to write three more episodes of Moving On and was part of the team behind McGovern's BBC series Broken, co-writing an episode. Colette was the lead writer on series two of Temple.

Colette is based in Liverpool.
