

Nancy Farino

Writer

Represented by:

Jessica Stewart

Nancy Farino is a writer and actor from the West Midlands. She trained at The Bristol Old Vic Theatre School and has since worked as an actor with Netflix, Apple, BBC and Sky. Her play, Fatherland, is going to be staged at Hampstead Theatre this autumn, directed by Tessa Walker. Other theatre work includes Twenty Something (Old Red Lion/Edinburgh Fringe Festival) and Blessings (Camden People's Theatre). Alongside this, she has been developing her latest play, My Strong Intent, as part of Hampstead Theatre's Inspire Programme. Alongside this, Nancy has been working on original television ideas with Netflix, Apple, BBC and Sky.

THEATRE

PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
FATHERLAND	Hampstead Theatre Downstairs / Celia Atkin	31 October - 29 November 2025 Director: Tessa Walker
TWENTY SOMETHING	Morning People (Old Red Lion, Edinburgh Fringe)	Director: Nancy Farino, Lynton Appleton
BLESSINGS	Morning People (Camden People's Theatre)	Director: Nancy Farino, Alfie Jones