

Aaron Kilercioglu

Writer / Director

Represented by:

Jessica Jones

Raised in Vienna by Turkish-Canadian parents, Aaron is a writer and director based in London. His short film GETAWAY starring Shygirl, premiered at SXSW London 2025. His recent play, THE E.U. KILLED MY DAD, staged at Jermyn Street won the Woven Voices Prize and was nominated for two Offies. His previous play, FOR A PALESTINIAN, enjoyed a sell-out 3-week run at the Camden People's Theatre, before selling out the Bristol Old Vic Theatre. Both are published with Methuen Drama. Aaron is working on commission from Eleanor Lloyd Company whilst developing plays with the Bush Theatre and Hampstead Theatre. His previous work has won the BOLD Playwrights Prize and the Methuen Drama 'Other' Prize. He has been shortlisted for the Theatre503 International Playwriting Prize, the Etan Ilfeld Prize, and been longlisted for the Bruntwood Prize. He has been a member of numerous associations and groups including, the Old Vic Playwriting, Hampstead Theatre INSPIRE, Bush Theatre Emerging Writers, Royal Court Young Agitators, and London Library Emerging Writers. Aaron also translates between German, Turkish, and English.

IN DEVELOPMENT

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY
2025	ADVERSE SELECTION	Eleanor Lloyd Productions
2025	CHERRY	Hampstead Theatre
2025	THE PASS	Bush Theatre

THEATRE

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY
2024	THE EU KILLED MY DAD	Jermyn Street Theatre
2022	FOR A PALESTINIAN	Bristol Old Vic & Camden People's Theatre

SHORT FILM

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY
2025	GETAWAY	Milk Machine & Pineapple Soup Productions

