Nemone Metaxas

Corporate Bookings

Graduating from Manchester University in Psychology, Nemone worked as a research assistant in several psychiatric wards before working her way on air at the then Kiss 102 in Manchester. Her rise to the nation's favourite was swift through the nightly entertainment show The Word, The G Spot phone in show, Morning's on Galaxy and then in 2000 she landed the Weekend Breakfast Show on Radio 1. She spent five years at Radio 1 hosting various shows from Breakfast through to Drivetime and has hosted a number of seminal events such as its Brit Awards coverage and the Mercury Music Awards.-In March 2003, Nemone went to Africa with Comic Relief to record a series of reports for the station.-She also traversed the UK introducing the Summer Events with audiences in excess of 100,000 and has broadcast live from the FA Cup Final, the Commonwealth Games and Glastonbury - even co-hosting with one of her heroes the late John Peel. She has since carved out a central role at BBC 6 Music - which she considers her spiritual home musically. Here she presented the daily lunchtime show for four years, and has turned her hand to presenting her Saturday night show 'Electric Ladyland' Throughout her career Nemone has presented on BBC TV using her sporting credentials to the full - fronting Grandstand's coverage from the X Games in Barcelona and Ski Sunday in Italy. And in 2004 she made her own documentary My Big Fat Greek Olympic Dream for BBC3. Nemone competed nationally for Greater Manchester in the 400m and in 1999 she was Greater Manchester Champion. Since filming and interviewing the world's best snowboarder Shaun White, when he was just starting out, she has since become a fully fledged rider herself. Not one to rest too long, she has competed in Triathlons in London (where she was 12th highest placed woman) and Blenheim, before briefly consigning her trainers to the bottom of the wardrobe to have her daughter and baby boy. In 2010 Nemone fronted BBC1 Saturday night entertainment show 101 Ways to Leave a Gameshow with Steve Jones, pitting the British public against each other in a test of general knowledge and an appetite for extreme experiences. In 2012 she has hosted the Music Producers Guild Awards, the behind the scenes Oscars of the music industry, at Cafe De Paris in London and presented coverage from the Critics Circle Awards at the BFI in London.

TELEVISION

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY
2010	101 Ways To Leave A Gameshow (Presenter)	Endemol for BBC1
2007	British Touring Car Championships (Presenter)	Ch4
2004	My Big Fat Greek Olympic Dream (Presenter)	Bite Yer Legs for BBC3
2013	2003 Grandstand: Burton European Open/European X Games	BBC2

RADIO

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY
2013	Nemone’s Electric Ladyland	BBC 6 Music
2011-12	Nemone's Weekend Show (Presenter)	BBC 6 Music
2010	The Radio Festival Manchester (Presenter)	The Radio Academy
2006-11	Nemone's Lunchtime Show (Presenter)	BBC 6 Music

INDEPENDENT TALENT GROUP LTD

40 WHITFIELD STREET LONDON W1T 2RH
TEL: +44 (0)20 7636 6565 FAX: +44 (0)20 7323 0101

REGISTERED IN ENGLAND NUMBER 4338525 EMPLOYMENT AGENCY,
REGISTERED OFFICE 40 WHITFIELD STREET LONDON W1T 2RH

2008	Sports Personality of the Year 2008 (Presenter)	Radio 5 Live
2005	Early Breakfast (Presenter)	Radio 1
2003	Glastonbury with John Peel (Co-Presenter)	Radio 1
2001	The Weekend Lunchtime Shows (Presenter)	Radio 1
1998	The Morning Show (Presenter)	Galaxy 102
1997	The Word (Presenter)	Kiss 102/105

LIVE EVENTS

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)
2012	The Music Producer Guild Awards (Host)
2012	The BFI Southbank FCCA Awards (Host)

JOURNALISM

DATE	PUBLICATION (ROLE)
2012	The Huffington Post (Writer)
2012	The Telegraph: In The Know (Writer)