Ryan J. Brown

Writer

Ryan J Brown is a writer originally from North Lincolnshire. Named an ‘Emerging Artist’ to watch by GAY TIMES and an LGBT Trailblazer by Attitude Magazine. He is the creator and writer of 'Wreck', an original horror comedy series for BBC Three with Euston Films that ran for two series' from 2022, 'Wreck' was hailed as “groundbreaking” by critics, and was picked up by Hulu in the US, and was nominated for Best Drama at RTS NI Programme Awards 2023. Brown wrote an episode of Joe-Barton's Netflix show ‘The Bastard Son & The Devil Himself’. Brown featured on the UK’s Brit List for two consecutive years and won the BAFTA Rocliffe award for queer crime drama 'We Are Your Children'. A project which contributed to the reopening of a decades-old cold case. He has developed shows with Apple and Disney+, amongst others.
