

Caitlin French McLeod

Director

Represented by:

Jennie Miller

Caitlin French McLeod is a writer/director based between Berlin and the UK. Her debut short, one like him was funded by BFI Network and selected for over 20 festivals, including BAFTA-qualifying Frameline 46 (San Francisco), LIFF, Outfest (LA), and NEIFF, where it won Best LGBTQ Film. Caitlin is currently co-writing the feature adaptation, City of Salt. Her latest short, Dog (2025), is now on the festival circuit winning BEST DRAMA at TVIFF. Caitlin is developing the original series Bury Me Standing - a crime drama rooted in her Romani heritage - with her sister, screenwriter Tegan McLeod. Caitlin is attached to direct her debut feature, the erotic thriller Rivermouth, starring Maxine Peake and Tom Lewis, produced by Kees Kasander (Fish Tank) and Jessica Palmarozza (Alma by Sally Potter). She is a Sky Arts Award Winner (2016) and alumna of BFI Network (2019), BBC New Creatives (2020), and Directors UK Inspire, where she was mentored by Amy Neil (Hostage) and Rebecca Gatward (Moonflower Murders). Caitlin trained in television directing under Laurence Moody.

REVIEWS

PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
UTILITY	By Emily Schwend, Orange Tree Theatre	BEST NEW PLAY Off West End Awards nomination "This prize-winning American play by Emily Schwend is the latest hit in an astonishing run of forntier Orange Tree" - Fiona Mountford, Evening Standard "Brings an unpatronising candour to its graceful, low-key depiction of life in breadline America." - Maxie Szalwinska, The Sunday Times "The political and dramatic significance of Schwend's play lies in texture, rather than incident, common with writers such as Annie Baker, Alexander Zeldin and Barney Norris, she concentrates on the minutiae that make up the quality of life for her characters." - Sarah Hemming, FT
BRENDA	By EV Crowe, HighTide / The Yard	The Guardian The Telegraph The Stage Female Arts Four Off West End Awards nominations Trailer: (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y3fdt9z4kCw) "Visionary and magical" - The Telegraph "I honestly love this knotty Beckett shit. It's dark as a bat's eyeballs but it tells you the truth about what it means to be alive." - Huffington Post 'Huffington Post: 2015's Best Theatre' "E.V. Crowe's play was like a beautiful hymn that you thought you'd never heard but actually somehow you knew all the words to. It wasn't like watching something, it was like being inside something. Maybe this is what it feels like for people who actually know how to do meditation. You feel like you've spent an hour watching nothing, and then you realize that you have in fact learned this weird dark secret about the human condition." - Jessie Thompson "Caitlin McLeod's production plays intriguing games with reality...Alison O'Donnell and Jack Tarlton perform excellently" - The Guardian "EV Crowe has won awards aplenty for her work and it's easy to see why: her writing is intense, probing and almost perversely unknowable'...Beckett definitely haunts EV Crowe's searching new play...properly intriguing" - Time Out
RETURNING TO HAIFA	By Ghassan Kanafani, adapted by Naomi Wallace and Ismail Khalidi, Finborough Theatre	The Guardian "Commissioned by New York's Public Theater, this play never reached the stage because of pressure from the board. They missed a trick because it is a powerful and disturbing piece now receiving its belated premiere." WhatsOnStage "As quietly shattering as it is gently complex."
