

Kate Crowther

Producer

Kate has worked as a highly sought after production executive, executive producer and hands on producer for the last 13 years in both Film and TV; working repeatedly with the BBC, Film 4 and Warp Films. As an Exec, Kate's credits include Richard Ayoade's 'Submarine', Gabriel Range's 'I am Slave', Hattie Dalton's 'Third Star' and Marc Evans' 'Patagonia'. As a Producer, Kate's credits include two series of 'Belonging' for the BBC, the Ruth Jones created comedy drama 'Ar Y Tracs' for Tidy/S4C and 'Care' starring Gina McKee for Sky Arts/Warp Films. Kate has also made a number of short films during her career, most recently Jesse Armstrong's directorial debut 'No Kaddish in Carmarthen' for Film 4/BFI/Warp Films, which was selected for Brief Encounters, London Film Festival and Clermont Ferrand, as well as being chosen as one of the top 10 British shorts by the British Council at London Short Film Festival.
