Lachlan MacKinnon

Producer

Lachlan's credits include the award-winning Industry (HBO/BBC), A Discovery of Witches (Sky One/AMC), Red Eye (ITVX/Sony) and The Winter King (MGM+/ITVX). Prior to working as an EP, Lachlan produced the acclaimed single drama Burton and Taylor (BBC/BBC America). The drama received nominations at the Golden Globes, Emmys, Screen Actors Guild Awards, and the British Academy Television Awards for Helena Bonham Carter and Dominic West, amongst others.

Lachlan's body of work also includes the historical drama The White Princess (Starz), with Jodie Comer in the lead role, and returning BBC stalwart Silent Witness. Lachlan recently completed an Executive MBA at Imperial College London, where his main areas of research included sustainability practices and organisational behaviour within the television industry. He is passionate about nurturing and empowering the next generation of creative talent on both sides of the camera and regularly participates in mentoring and talent development schemes, including the Edinburgh TV Festival's Ones to Watch.
